SECTION I: PROGRAM INFORMATION

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

7. Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

YesNo

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

Graduate candidates in the Transition-to-Teaching have an Introduction to Special Education course, and many aspects of teaching children with disabilities are embedded in numerous courses and field experiences. Knowledge and skills for teaching English language learners are also embedded in numerous courses and field experiences. In general, all areas of the Assurances are included in the curriculum for all academic programs within the EPP with the exception of preparing candidates to effectively teach in rural schools. This assurance is especially difficult to address due to the nature of the Transition-to-Teaching program, which is limited in credit hours and field work. Many students are on emergency licenses and teaching in their own classroom. The Director of Student Teaching and Field Experiences is collaborating with regional school districts with rural school settings to provide placements that prepare candidates to effectively teach in rural schools. The EPP is committed to improving this part of the curriculum.

The School of Education at Indiana University South Bend has developed a collaborated program with the Elkhart Community Schools to deliver coursework leading to initial licensure for teaching special education/mild intervention for individuals identified and employed by the Elkhart Community Schools. The Elkhart Community Schools will recruit 10-25 participants to enroll in credit-bearing portions of the licensure program. The curriculum will be adjusted to address the specific needs of the participants and the students in the corporation. A cohort of 28 completed the program in Fall 2021 and were not counted as completers for the 2020-2021 academic year. This accounts for the disparity between the number of participants enrolled in the program and the number of completers for the 2020-2021 academic year.

SECTION III: PROGRAM PASS RATES

Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

Candidates in the Secondary Education Transition-to-Teaching program take an educational technology course at the beginning of their program. Skills learned in this course include pedagogical tools for teaching and learning and operational tools for navigating technology-based resources necessary for functioning as a student in a university. Students illustrate student achievement data using technology tools. Candidates in the MAT ins Special Education use technology in collecting academic and behavioral data in EDUC-K 553 Classroom and Behavioral Management, and EDUC-P 519 Psycho-Educational Assessment of Exceptional Children. Candidates also take EDUC-K 501 Adapting Computers for Special Education.
